

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction, Daniel Brumberg and Larry Diamond ix

I. Democratization in the Arab World

1. A Record of Failure,
Mohamed Talbi 3
2. Illusions of Change,
Emmanuel Sivan 13
3. The Awakening of Civil Society,
Laith Kubba 28
4. The Trap of Liberalized Autocracy,
Daniel Brumberg 35
5. The Decline of Pluralism in Mubarak's Egypt,
Jason Brownlee 48
6. Algeria's Uneasy Peace,
William B. Quandt 58
7. Depoliticization in Morocco,
Abdeslam M. Maghraoui 67
8. Stirrings in Saudi Arabia,
Jean-François Seznec 76
9. Emirs and Parliaments in the Gulf,
Michael Herb 84
10. Yemen's Aborted Opening,
Jillian Schwedler 91
11. Deliberalization in Jordan,
Russell E. Lucas 99

II. Iran and Turkey

12. Iran's Remarkable Election,
Shaul Bakhash 109
13. Is Iran Democratizing? Observations on Election Day,
Haleh Esfandiari 124
14. Is Iran Democratizing? Reform at an Impasse,
Ladan Boroumand and Roya Boroumand 130

15. Is Iran Democratizing? A Comparativist's Perspective,
Daniel Brumberg 145
16. The Deadlock in Iran: Pressures from Below,
Ramin Jahanbegloo 151
17. The Deadlock in Iran: Constitutional Constraints,
Mehrangiz Kar 157
18. Turkey at the Polls: After the Tsunami,
Soli Özel 162
19. Turkey at the Polls: A New Path Emerges,
Ziya Öniş and E. Fuat Keyman 177
- III. Islam and Democracy
20. Muslims and Democracy,
Abdou Filali-Ansary 193
21. A Historical Overview,
Bernard Lewis 208
22. Two Visions of Reformation,
Robin Wright 220
23. The Challenge of Secularization,
Abdou Filali-Ansary 232
24. The Sources of Enlightened Muslim Thought,
Abdou Filali-Ansary 237
25. The Elusive Reformation,
Abdelwahab El-Affendi 252
26. The Silenced Majority,
Radwan A. Masmoudi 258
27. Faith and Modernity,
Laith Kubba 263
28. Islamists and the Politics of Consensus,
Daniel Brumberg 268
29. An Exit from Arab Autocracy,
Vickie Langohr 276
30. Terror, Islam, and Democracy,
Ladan Boroumand and Roya Boroumand 283