

Holz-English Honors Thesis Fellowship

Funds from the Erich W. Zimmermann Professorship in Geography are available on a competitive basis for undergraduate students majoring in geography at the University of Texas at Austin who wish to write an honors thesis. The fellowship is named in honor of Professor Emeritus Robert K. Holz and the late Professor Paul Ward English, two important members of the UT Department Geography and the Environment for more than 30 years.

One or more grants of up to $500 will be made each year. All topics will be considered, especially resources, the specialty of Professor Zimmermann, an economic geographer, for whom the professorship is named.

Applicants must submit a one-page proposal outlining: (1) their research plans, (2) the two semesters involved, (3) the name(s) of the supervising professor and other faculty who may be involved in the research, and (4) a budget of anticipated expenses.

A letter from the supervising professor indicating his or her agreement to serve as thesis advisor should be submitted separately.

The deadline for applying is 1 November.

Applications and supervising letters should be send as pdf to: dolitl@austin.utexas.edu

Previous Awards

Year	Recipient	Project
2001	Muhammad T. Rahman <sup>1</sup>	Perception and Societal Response to Hazard Mitigation: Arsenic Contamination of Drinking Water in Bangladesh
2002	Jason A. Reed <sup>2</sup>	Development and Demographic Relationship of the St. Johns Neighborhood: Socioeconomic Implications
2003	Kimberly Blancas <sup>1</sup>	Hydraulic and Sedimentary Controls on Floodplain Styles of the Lower Guadalupe River, Texas
2004	Corrie Colvin	Spatial Dimensions of Human Rights in Central America
2005	Rachel Bergquist	Sacred Landscapes of the American Southwest
2006	Robert Stahl	Municipal Zoning, Land-Use Regulations, and the Creation of Exclusionary Spaces and Places in Urban Landscapes

2007	Anne Mariah Tapp	Hydrologic Patterns of the Pastaza River in the Peruvian Amazon
2008	Jacob Hendrickson <sup>2</sup>	Human-Environmental Histories of Cuatro Ciénegas, Coahuila, Mexico
2011	Andrew Townsend	Geographical Range Dynamics and Conservation Status of Cyclura pinguis
2013	Jessica Norriss	Wildlife Habitats and Cultural Landscapes of Costa Rica and Nicaragua
2015	Ilse Muñoz	Preserving the Heritage of Xochimilco in the 21 st Century
2018	Devon B. Hsiao	People-to-People Interactions in China-Africa Relations: A Case Study of Kampala, Uganda
2022	Dahlia Vasquez	Latino Intergenerational Communication and Attitudes Regarding Climate Change

<sup>1</sup>now holds a PhD,

<sup>2</sup>now holds a master's degree